

The Wisconsin "no call" law along with the Federal law has made my home life distinctly more pleasant by keeping the phone from ringing with unwanted solicitors. The few that still call receive an unwelcome rebute. If the law needs to be modified, make the penalties higher and include charities/religious organizations as well. They can adjust their operations just as other organizations and companies have.